

There are six major constellations that are seen in the skies over Terrata. Each is considered the ruler of its own aspect of the sky, and looking up from anywhere on the planet you will be able to see at least part of each.

Ava Regis – The Queen of Birds, the most striking feature of this sign is her outstretched wings.

Corris Borealis – The Northern Knife. This sign hangs permanently in the northern sky with its blade pointing due south.

Dormen Regis – Best known as The Sleeping King, some cultures refer to this sign as The Dead King, and the Cult of the Stars considers him The Dead yet Sleeping King.

Kuston and Lucerne – Technically two constellations; The Watchman and The Lantern, they are considered one star sign. The bright light at the centre of The Lantern is actually a planet.

Silva Auratus – Each tree of The Gilded Forest has its own name, and some astrologers consider them their own signs.

Vermis Major – The Great Worm. There are only two days a year when both of the worm's heads are visible and these are said to be auspicious days to be born on.
